The 1st Lady of Rodeo in the Lone Star State

What an exciting year so far! The Miss Rodeo Texas queens have hit the ground running making appearances all across the country.

However, NONE of this would be possible without all of the people dedicate their time working tirelessly all year to insure the success of the pageant. THANK YOU to all of the board members, committee and volunteers who are selfless servants to our organization. We are ever appreciative for what you do.

Congratulations to our new Queens, Stephanie Revels, Miss Rodeo Texas, Hannah Tomlinson, Miss Rodeo Texas Teen, and Kate Johnson, Miss Rodeo Texas Princess!

Travels of Miss Rodeo Texas Teen Hannah Tomlinson

Our new Miss Rodeo Texas Teen hails from Comanche, TX and entered the pageant as Miss Rodeo Austin Princess.

Hannah has already made various appearances including the Boys and Girls Club of Brownwood where she spoke to at risk children about rodeo. Hannah said, "I was able to speak to a wide audience from young children to adults. It was so wonderful to share the sport of rodeo with an unfamiliar audience! I am so humbled".

Pursuits of a Princess Kate Johnson

Entering the competition as Miss Rodeo Sandhills Princess, Kate was extremely excited to become the 12th Miss Rodeo Texas Princess. Kate has made the goal of attending over 51 appearances this year and she is well on her way of accomplishing it! Kate has traveled within Texas, along with several out of state appearances including the National Cowboy Museum in Oklahoma City.

Stephanie's Travels

Hello Miss Rodeo Texas Fans,

I am honored and extremely excited to officially introduce myself, as your Miss Rodeo Texas for 2013! After a whirlwind of events following Coronation on June 20th I have now relocated to the beautiful apartment that our Miss Rodeo Texas Board has provided for my year. I can't thank them enough for arranging this and I know my family appreciates it as well!

My First appearance was at the Belton PRCA Rodeo for their 4th of July celebration and I can't imagine a better way to kick off what I know will be an exciting year. They have an awesome rodeo and their committee is top notch! It was an honor to be a part of their team running sponsor flags, promoting the rodeo at the parade and in town as well as visiting the local Children's Hospital with the Cowgirl Chicks.

After attending the Woman's Club of San Antonio Luncheon and Style Show, I was excited to take this coveted Texas crown on the road- or rather in the air... to Nebraska's Big Rodeo and the Daddy of 'em All! I had a few free days in Burwell, NE and had so much fun "Tanking" the Calamus River and being treated to the Nebraska hospitality, but then it was back to back to business. We stopped by the Burwell Community Memorial Nursing Home, promoted the rodeo with the local radio station and we toured the town to thank all of the Burwell Rodeo Queen Sponsors. It was also great to see the familiar faces of Benje Bendele, Bennie Buetler and Hadley Barrett when I was so far from home. I love that even in a big world - Rodeo really is like a small family!

I can't even explain how excited I was about my next stop which was Cheyenne, WY for the Cheyenne Frontier Days Rodeo and Parade. It was literally a dream come true! Talk about rodeo traditions... Cheyenne is busting at the seams with traditions... like: Flipping pancakes at the pancake chuck wagon every morning, Wild horse races, a Frontier town with gun fighters and Indians and the best of the best PRCA Cowboys and Cowgirls vying for that coveted gold buckle.

I had a few days back home in San Antonio before heading to the Mesquite Championship Pro Rodeo August 9th and 10th. It was great to be back in my North Texas Stomping grounds to carry the American Flag and support this sport that I love so much. I was excited to see that Mesquite allows the WPRA to compete during the performance so I was especially proud to be there to support our professional ladies! I'm looking forward to traveling the great state of TEXAS and preparing for the trip to Vegas for the Miss Rodeo America Pageant in December.

I am truly blessed and honored to work with the MRT Board, Committee and Ms Marjorie who have also become my new family and I want to thank them for all that they do! I hope to see each of you during the upcoming year at one of our awesome Texas Rodeos!

Sincerely,
Stephanie Revels

Formers' Corner

We had a wonderful formers reception before the coronation at the pageant! A special thank you to the ORIGINAL Miss Rodeo Texas, Sandra Hathaway, who always makes this event possible! Also, thank you to MRT for the celebratory champagne! Are you a former? We want to know what is happening in your world! Please contact us with updates!
